

C. C. PENNISTON.

MAY 18, 1860.—Ordered to be printed.

Mr. POTTLE, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, made the following REPORT.

The Committee on Naval Affairs, to whom was referred the memorial of C. C. Penniston, beg leave to report:

The petitioner in this case complains that his son, who was an apprentice in the navy, and who was engaged in the late Paraguay expedition, was abandoned abroad by Captain D. B. Ridgely. No evidence has been presented to sustain this allegation, but, on the contrary, it appears, from inquiry at the Navy Department, that the said son was a deserter.

C. C. PEARSON

Was at New Orleans in 1858

Mr. Pearson, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, made the following

REPORT

The Committee on Naval Affairs, to which was referred the memorial of D. D. Pearson, beg leave to report

The petitioner in this case represents that his son, who was an apprentice in the navy, and who was engaged in the last Pacific expedition, was abandoned about 1848 by the U. S. Navy. No evidence has been presented to sustain the allegation, but if the charge is correct, that inquiry in the Navy Department, and the and returned to the